Secretary of War, Garrison, Resigns From The Cabinet

New Boats To Ply On Stikine Next Season

Mr. W. Scott Simpson Dominion Government Indian Agent at Telegraph, B. C., arrived up on the Princess May last Tuesday after spending the last four months at Victoria and Vancouver. Mr. Simpson expects to leave the first of the week for his home at Telegraph.

Mr. Simpson brings the news of a new steamer to ply on the Stikine this season. The new vessel is now underway at a shipyard at Vancouver and is being built for the Hudson Bay Company who will operate it this summer in place of the Port Simpson which has formerly plied the river in the summer. The new vessel is a shallow draft boat powered with two large gas engines and is expected to be very speedy. The plans now are for the new vessel to make weekly trips between here and Telegraph. The vessel will be able to navigate the river at any stage of water. It is expected here about the first of May.

There is also another vessel under construction at Seattle being built by Capt. Sid Barrington of the Side Stream Navigation Company of the Yukon which is being built knocked down and will be shipped and constructed sometime in March. This vessel will likely be under the charge of Capt. Mangas one of the owners of the Tyconda which made several trips on the river last summer.

It is also rumored that there is a third boat being built for the Stikine service at Portland and will arrive here sometime before navigation starts in the spring.

The new steamers with the ones from Wrangell will make about five vessels plying the Stikine this season.

Zeppline Brought Down In Raid On England

London, Feb. 10—Another air raid was made on the English coast last evening but before the air crafts were able to do any damage they were sighted and drove back. One of the huge Zeppelins were brought down by one of the long range guns.

Juneau, Feb. 10--6 P. M.--According to a flash message just received here, Secretary of War, Lindley Miller Garrison, has handed to President Wilson his resignations from the Cabinet. No particulars are obtainable tonight.

It is believed that the Secretary and the President have clashed over their preparedness plans. Henry S. Breckinridge, Assistant Secretary of War, will probably be appointed to fill the vacated chair.

Plot To Blow Up Amunition Plants

San Francisco, Feb. 10—Several wealthy steamship and business men of San Francisco were indicted today by a grand jury on a charge of plots to destroy ammunition plants. The heading of the plots has been traced to the German and Turkish consuls and their staffs. After the news became known it caused considerable excitement and it is believed that many prominent men of the city are implicated.

London, Feb. 10—The condition of King George is little changed today and the doctors in charge state that he will be unable to open parliament on the fifteenth.

Germany Offers Peace To Belgium

London, Feb. 10—It was officially stated yesterday that the German government has offered peace to Belgium and offers to restore all of her former country with a good indemnity. King Albert of Belgium absolutely refuses to consider the offer and made the statement that he will stick to the Allies until the end of the war.

Rich Ore Opened At Devil's Elbow Property

According to Charlie Olson well known old timer of Wrangell who rushed out from Telegraph the mine at Devil's Elbow is looking wonderfully good. Olson stopped at the mine on the way down and states that fifteen men have worked all winter never missing a shift and that a new tunnel has been run in down about three hundred feet from the first one and the ore is the richest yet taken from the claims. Several tons are now in the dump.

Constantinople, Feb. 10—A report is received here to the effect that French aeroplanes yesterday dropped bombs in the heart of the city of Smyrna, over a hundred Turks were killed and scores injured and the loss of property is great.

German Cruiser Captured By British Crusier At Sea

London, Feb. 10—Much excitement was caused here this morning when it was learned that the British cruiser Drake had captured the German cruiser Roon. Until the news was given out by the Admiralty it was supposed that the English fleet had all of the German war vessels bottled up in the North Sea and it is believed that she is the first to escape since the North Sea blockade went into effect.

According to the official notice the Roon was captured about two hundred miles south of Bermudas. After the Drake sighted the Roon being much faster she rapidly overtook the latter and after a running fight lasting over three hours the Roon was compelled to surrender. The Drake have the crew of the Roon numbering thirty three officers and seven hundred and nineteen men on board as prisoners of war. The Drake lost nineteen men in the fight, the loss from the Roon is not known at present. At the time of capture the Roon was accompanying two merchantmen one of which was armed.

The Roon directed by wireless the capture of the Appam.

London, Feb. 10—All London papers today are loud in their demand that the British navy accomplished something.

Strong Wind Is Blowing At Juneau

Juneau, Feb. 10—A terrific Taku wind is blowing here today. The wind has blown continually now for three days and today it is worse, there are few signs left standing. The steamer Georgia returned to port being unable to weather the storm to Sitka, and the Princess May sent in a wireless this morning that she would not arrive until weather moderates.

Washington, Feb. 10—The Senate yesterday voted eleven million dollars to build government armor plate factories.

Athens, Feb. 10—The Greek and Bulgar forces clashed along the border for the past few days. The Greeks drove the invaders back.

Self-Loading Rifle.

This new Winchester is reloaded by recoil, the repeating as well as the firing mechanism being under control of the trigger finger. A bullet fired from it strikes a blow of 2038 pounds—force enough to topple over the biggest game—penetration enough to reach the innermost vital spot. Too wonderful in operation and powerful in execution, this rifle is neither complicated in construction nor cumbersome to handle.

FISHER'S BLEND FLOUR

BETTER than the Best

WITHOUT our knowledge, the Columbus Laboratories of Chicago tested FISHER'S BLEND FLOUR for a Dakota Wheat Grower. The analysis ranked FISHER'S BLEND FLOUR higher in General Average, Gluten Quality, Water Absorption and Loaf Value than the best Dakota all-Hard Wheat Patent Flour, which is the recognized standard for bread-stuff efficiency. FISHER'S BLEND FLOUR is a scientific combination of Eastern Hard Wheat and Western Soft Wheat, preserving the best qualities of each. She Wouldn't Make Trouble.
She was not one of these trouble making women. In fact, she had the greatest contempt for people of that kind. She said so herself.
"And she spoke of you, too," she said in telling a friend of a call.
"What did she say?"
"Oh, I'm rather not tell you, dear. There's no use making trouble, you know."—Chicago Post.

A HUGE WATER SYSTEM.

Enormous Cost and Extent of the Work Needed to Supply New Work.

New York city adds another big city's population to itself every year. In this way an Albany, a Bridgeport, a New Haven or a Grand Rapids is annexed every twelve months; in two years a Jersey City is gained and in five a Boston, a Cleveland or a Baltimore. In order to provide an adequate supply of water for this growth of approximately 125,000 a year a plan was approved to obtain from the foothills of the Catskill mountains 500,000,000 gallons daily. The comprehensive plan includes the development of the watersheds of the Esopus, Rondout, Schoharie and Catskill creeks, but at the present time only the Esopus watershed is being developed with its available 250,000,000 gallons of water daily.

Starting at the 130,000,000 gallon Ashokan reservoir, holding enough water to cover Manhattan to a depth of twenty-eight feet and whose area is equal to all of Manhattan below One Hundred and Sixteenth street, an aqueduct 127 miles long is being constructed which will pass under deep valleys, the Hudson, Bronx and East rivers and the Narrows to Staten Island, supplying New York's boroughs, known as the Bronx, Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond. Near Valhalla, N. Y., thirty miles from the city hall, the aqueduct is interrupted by the Kensico reservoir, which acts as an emergency storage reservoir to prevent interruption of supply during the unwatering periods necessary for inspection between Ashokan and Kensico reservoirs. This reservoir will have the largest dam in the world, containing over 1,000,000 yards of masonry, and will store 40,000,000,000 gallons of water, which is sufficient to supply New York for seventy-five days or cover Manhattan Island to a depth of nine feet. Its shore line is 30.2 miles long.

The total estimated cost of building the 500,000,000 gallon aqueduct was $176,857,000, of which about $100,000,000 had been spent to March, 1912.—Engineering Magazine.

Most Important Minerals.

The great volume of the mineral production of the United States, its tremendous increase during the last few years and the wide distribution of the important minerals were indicated in a recent address by George Otis Smith, director of the United States geological survey. The twelve most important mineral products in the United States, in the order of value of annual output, were stated by Mr. Smith to be coal, iron, clay products, copper, petroleum, gold, stone, natural gas, cement, lead, silver and zinc.

When Dead Men Ate.

In the medical press is a story of a man who believed that he was dead and who for that reason refused to take nourishment. "How can the dead eat and drink?" he asked when food was pressed upon him. It was obvious that unless something were done to bring him to his senses the delusion must soon become actuality—he would die of starvation. The strangest ruse was tried. Half a dozen attendants, draped in ghostly white, crept silently in single file into the room adjoining his and with the door open sat down where he could see them at a hearty meal. "Here, who are these people?" inquired the patient. "Dead men," answered the doctor. "What?" said the other. "Do dead men eat?" "To be sure they do, as you see for yourself," was the answer. "Well," said the corpse, "if that is so I'll join them, for I'm starving." The spell was broken, and he sat down and ate like forty famished men.

Or the "Pill Chasers."

"We drug clerks have formed a base ball team."
"What do you call it—the quinine?"

Smoking a Stovepipe.

When a stovepipe is too small for a hole in the chimney a bushing can readily be made of metal tobacco boxes that are curved to fit in the pocket, says Mechanics. Remove the tops and bottoms of the boxes and shove them in around the pipe. If such tobacco boxes are not at hand tin cans of any kind can be used by melting off the tops and bottoms and bending the remaining cylindrical shells into proper shape.

Wonderful Descent.

"Ever hear Wallaby tell about his remarkable descent?"
"Descended from a hundred ears, I suppose?"
"Now, volplaned down 400 feet in a monoplane."—Washington Herald.

INSECT ANAESTHETICS.

Wasps and Bees Analyze Their Victims Before Killing.

That the sting of a wasp, which punctures the nerve centers of a captured caterpillar or spider, usually paralyzes the creature into helplessness rather than kills it is well known. The victim remains alive in the burrow or cell in which the wasp stores it as food for the larva which will emerge from the egg laid in the same cell. Therefore the newly hatched grub finds ready for it a provision of living meat instead of decayed carrion.

That "wizard" among entomologists, the venerable Fabre, has observed a similar yet even more extraordinary fact in the history of the glowworm beetle (lampyris)—namely, that it anaesthetizes the prey upon which it itself feeds, so that it may consume it at leisure and predigest it. This beetle, whose brilliant phosphorescence attracts the eye in the dusk of the summer evenings, habitually hunts and seizes upon a certain small snail in order to eat it.

The curious thing is that the beetle anaesthetizes the mollusk at the first attack, preventing it from escaping by withdrawing to safety deep within its shell. Upon finding the snail the beetle dashes forward and, thrusting out its sharp, curved mandibles, repeatedly stabs the side of the body of its prey. After a few punctures the snail becomes insensible and remains in that dazed state for three or four hours—a time more than sufficient for the beetle to complete its meal—Independent.

CAUGHT THE CAPTAIN.

He Was Not on the Early Morning Job, But the Kaiser Was.

Some time ago the kaiser heard that a captain in one of the guards regiments at Potsdam had fixed the regulation hour of schooling for his men at 6 o'clock in the morning. The kaiser, though doubting the fitness of such an early hour for the lesson and the ability of a popular young officer to keep up to this rather exacting standard of early rising, said nothing, but one day walked into the barrack room at 6 o'clock.

The captain was not there, but the emperor showed neither annoyance nor surprise. He asked where the lesson was to be found in the books, and without more ado, the mingled anxiety and delight of the men, he took the lesson in hand and explained the passage in history which was the subject of the day. It was nearly 7 o'clock when the captain showed himself. The kaiser returned his salute and made no allusion to his fallen countenance, but handed him the lesson book after pointing out how far the class had got and then left the room.

Nothing more was said or heard about the incident until a few days later, when the captain received a handsome alarm clock, evidently from the kaiser. What the officer wrote in his letter of thanks for the gift is no recorded.—Ireland's Own.

A Strenuous Statesman.

Charles James Fox, the English statesman and sport, had wagered something about a waistcoat which could only be obtained in Paris; went off to Dover by night, caught the mail packet, posted to Paris and back to Calais, and remembered he had a horse racing at Newmarket. He chartered a fishing boat bound for the eastern counties, just got to Newmarket in time for the race, took the post back to London and stopped on the way to dine. In the middle of the dinner he was caught by a special messenger who had been tearing over half of England in search of him and reminded that he had to move to bring in a marriage bill in the house of commons. He rushed to the stables, reached the house in time to make a brilliant speech in reply to North and Burke and defeated North on a division by a single vote.

An Automatic Waiter.

An Australian has invented an electric waiter for hotels and restaurants, operated by the customer seated at his table. A wooden frame holding the menu card is fitted with push buttons opposite each item, and "pressing the button" rings a bell in the kitchen and displays the order and the table number. The kitchen apparatus also prints a check the original of which comes to the customer, with a duplicate on an endless tape. This device has been in successful use in New Zealand.

England's Families.

There are more than 8,000,000 separate families living in England.

Parsley.

Parsley formed the crown with which Hercules, as conqueror of the Nemean lion, crowned himself; Anacreon celebrates the plant as the emblem of joy and festivity. Fable makes parsley the food of courtesers. The warriors of Homer fed their charges with it for battle.

Yew Trees.

Yew trees live to an age of 400 or 500 years. The red berries of the yew are not poisonous, as is commonly supposed, but the seeds are very poisonous.

At Telegraph Mr. Goldberg purchased over six thousand dollars worth of silver, red and cross fox also mink furs which he is taking outside.

Plenty Of Water If Everyone Is Careful

The first of the week the report was circulated that Wrangell was about to face a water famine as Mayor Grant and others made a trip up to the dam to investigate and report that there is about four or five feet of water above the intake in the dam and that a small stream is running in which is about off setting the leakage, so with due diligence and keeping the faucets closed Wrangell has water to last about six weeks without rain, but there is none to spare and it is up to each citizen to be as saving as possible until the weather moderates at least.

The Third Attack On Riga In Now On

Five hundred German French trenches have been captured by the German forces, a large number of prisoners were taken with the trenches and many large guns.

Why this man bought a Remington Junior Typewriter

"I have been investigating several of the recent makes of machines, looking for one of simple construction for ordinary manuscript and letter writing. I was nearly ready to buy a machine of another make when I just happened to see for the first time the Remington Junior, and found it to be the very thing I wanted."

The man who wrote this is the postmaster of a small Southern town. It is only one of thousands who have recently bought a Remington Junior. But his reasons apply to everybody—they apply to YOU.

The Remington Junior is our latest product and the latest idea in typewriting.

It is strictly a high-grade machine.

It has the Remington Name, the Remington Guarantee, the Remington Quality—everything Remington except weight and bulk.

A "Simplified Remington" describes it exactly.

And its price is $50.00

Remington Junior Typewriters will be sent "on examination," without obligation to purchase.

Easy payment terms can be arranged if desired.
